'The cleaning detergent market is really huge, due to the fact that every adult person, no matter their social status, does laundry and cleans. Each and every one of these people is open to an affordable, easy-to-use product that really does work, especially if it is eco-friendly and bio-degradable. Triple Orange products fit the bill perfectly,' says the company.

Every household will at some stage embark on a cleaning process, whether it's a daily shower, washing dishes, washing cars or doing the laundry. Over the years, through various types of media, we have learnt that there is a specific product for every cleaning activity, and so have used specific cleaning agents for washing dishes, cleaning windows, and degreasing bath tubs and showers. We have laundry detergents for hand-wash, top-loader washing machines, and front-loading machines, as well as softeners for baby clothing, toddlers, adults, winter clothes and summer clothes. You name it, we have become specialists at collecting and using chemicals in our offices and homes. Our products are designed to safely and effectively replace those toxic chemicals.

Triple Orange is a family business which manufactures detergents. Our family has been in the health and nutrition industry for over 30 years. In that time we have watched thousands of people move toward a healthier lifestyle, seeking healthier solutions to common ailments and, more recently, a genuine concern, not just for individual well-being, but the well-being of the environment we live in.

This move toward a greener approach to lifestyles prompted us to research and subsequently develop two products that will unclutter pantries, make cleaning easier and to take you from wanting a healthy environment to you making a difference to the environment.

Triple Orange General Purpose Cleaning Gel is a concentrated water-soluble pH-balanced orange oil-based gel. A super-powerful cleaner and degreaser, safe for use on all surfaces, including heat-producing equipment. This gel is gentle on your hands, contains no sulfates or phosphates and works on all surfaces. This new cutting-edge pure orange oil-base cleaning gel replaces absolutely all your household cleaning products. The Triple Orange Laundry Detergent is a powerful laundry detergent and degreaser which requires no softener is pH-balanced, and made from orange oil. It is 100% bio-degradable, gentle on your fabrics and acts as a softener as well.

Orange oil is known for its strong degreasing properties and, since oranges grow on trees, they are a renewable resource. To chat to one of our experts call 011 782 7314 or go to www.tripleorange.co.za or email: orange@tripleorange.co.za.
